Jake it from Here

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—Tuesday's general election produced no surprises locally—or to the pollsters, nationally—and the final count of Lee county voters established that it was one of the lightest turnouts in years.

The reason? Some veteran politicians viewed the complacency locally as the result of the lack of a red-hot local contest. The only contests, if they could be called that, were in the race for sheriff and state senator. Sen. Dennis Collins won handily. Sheriff John Stouffer, making his first election race, was opposed by Delmar Templeton. Stouffer scarcely campaigned, nor did Templeton. The result was that Templeton picked up the regular Democratic "straights" and went down to a resounding defeat.

The outcome of the Lee county health department issue was gratifying to the many backers of the department. The voters gave it a fine vote of endorsement. Only two precincts, both in Wyoming township, favored the discontinuance of the Health Department. Supervisor Charles Case, one of the few on the county board outwardly opposing the continuance of the department, evidently made his influence felt. At that, the Wyoming voters narrowly endorsed Case's stand.

Two bitter contests were fought in adjoining counties. In Bureau county, George Hodge, former Princeton police chief, and a Democrat, won over Henry Keutzer, the Republican, by a narrow margin. The county has not had a Democratic office-holder in many moons. Keutzer, a former sheriff, was opposed vigorously by anti-gambling factions, including the county clergy.

In DeKalb county, Republican Marion Hayes, a retired college professor, squeaked in for county superintendent of schools. He was opposed by Henry Hermanowicz, the Democrat. Hayes won, 6,513 to 6,386, after Hermanowicz led the chase until the final two precincts.

Last night's vote-counting in the Evening Telegraph offices was one of the quietest occasions in recent elections. The streets were deserted by 11 p.m. and only a few stayed around to watch the state and national races develop on the Associated Press wires.

One of the "faithful" was Sam Nichol, owner of the DeLuxe Cafe, who brought in coffee and sandwiches to the people charting the local voting. Incidentally, Sam had invited Joe Meek to be his guest for a couple of steak dinners had Meek won.

Sam's friends are waiting anxiously to see if he extends that invitation now that Meek was defeated.

The problem: Will he or won't he?

Willett Tops Aspirants for Assembly

GOP State Rep. Charles K. Willett, Dixon, led a field of three candidates in a "popularity contest" vote for members of the Illinois General Assembly from the 35th District in Tuesday's voting.

There was no contest, since three members were to be elected.

The district, which includes Lee, Whiteside and DeKalb Counties, gave Willett 42,988; incumbent Republican Rep. George S. Brydia, Prophetstown, 40,038, and incumbent Democratic Rep. Hubert D. Considine, Dixon, 26,383.

The vote by counties was:

Lee—Willett, 13,222; Brydia, 10,844, and Considine, 8,355.

Whiteside—Willett, 16,164; Brydia, 16,220, and Considine, 10,849.

DeKalb—Willett, 13,602; Brydia 12,974, and Considine, 7,179.

GOP Holds County by Big Margin

68 Per Cent Favor Continuing Public Health Department

Lee county voters gave the Lee County Health Department a better than two to one endorsement in Tuesday's voting.

Unofficial complete returns showed 6,832 votes in favor of keeping the health department in operation, while 3,172 votes asked discontinuance of the department.

The percentages of favorable votes in Dixon Township and the county as a whole differed by half a point. Dixon favored the department by 68.8 per cent, while the figure for the entire county was 68.3 per cent.

Only two of the county's 41 precincts showed majority votes in favor of abolishing the department. They were Wyoming first precinct and Wyoming second precinct (the Pawpaw area).

County Firmly GOP

The county remained firmly in the Republican column in the voting for U. S. senator and state and county officials. The GOP majorities generally were about two-and one-half to one.

Republican senatorial nominee Joseph T. Meek received 7,582 votes, and incumbent Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas got 3,446.

Republicans won similar majorities for other state offices.

Incumbent Lee County Sheriff John E. Stouffer proved a strong vote getter in the only contest on the county ticket. He received 8,166 votes to 2,592 for Delmar D. Templeton, who was nominated by write-in votes in the Democratic primary balloting. Neither candidate waged an active campaign.

Stouffer's total was almost as large as those of County Judge Grover W. Gehant, County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock and County Treasurer Albert . Hillison, all unopposed GOP incumbents.

Stouffer topped John A. Torrens, incumbent Republican county superintendent of schools, by almost 100 votes.

Follow Trend

The county followed the statewide trend in approving three "blue ballot" proposals.

The returns on the legislative apportionment amendment showed 6,323 yes votes and 1,864 no.

The vote on the proposed amendment to increase the term of the state treasurer to four years was 6,343 yes and 1,845 no.

The canals and waterways amendment was favored with 6,020 yes and 1,909 no.

Skies generally were cloudy and temperatures cool as the voters went to the polls.

Voter turnout was "light" as 11,195 persons cast ballots. That was about 2,000 less than in the last off-year election in 1950 when 13,200 votes were cast.

JOHN STOUFFER

Meek Gets 68.9% of Dixon Votes

Analysis of Vote Reveals Unusual Ballot Figures

As Dixon township goes, so goes Lee county.

Although Dixon township voters cast less than half of the total votes in the county, 47.7 per cent, the majority of the figures came within a fraction of a percentage point of exactly matching the county figures.

Of the 11,195 votes cast in the county, 5,250 came from the 14 Dixon township precincts. This was a drop of over 1,000 votes when compared to the last off-year election in 1950, when Dixon voters marked 6,346 ballots.

On the main election issues, the senate race, the Health Department and the sheriff's race, Dixon township voters didn't vary more than .5 of one per cent with the county percentage.

Meek Gets 68.9

Dixonites gave Joseph T. Meek 68.9 per cent of their votes over Democrat Paul Douglas in giving him a margin of 3,619 to 1,631. The county gave Meek 7,582 votes to 3,446 for Douglas, or a margin of 68.8 per cent.

Dixon voters helped Lee County keep the Health Department by casting 3,288 votes against the discontinuance as compared to 1,490 for the discontinuance, or 68.8 per cent. There were 569 void ballots.

Lee County voted 68.3 per cent to keep the Health Department, 6,832 to 3,172. There were 1,191 void Health Department ballots in the county, or 622 outside of the Dixon precincts.

Wins 3-1

John Stouffer won a comfortable three-to-one margin of victory in the race for Lee County Sheriff. Stouffer netted 75.8 per cent of the Dixon votes and 75.9 from the county as a whole.

Fifty-six per cent of the Dixon township voters cast their ballots after 12 p.m. Tuesday. The 14th precinct recorded the biggest afternoon vote when 301 turned out to vote. The Second and Twelfth precincts recorded the highest vote in the city with 544 and 525, respectively.

Bender Is New Ohio Senator

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. George H. Bender today was elected U. S. senator from Ohio, on the Republican ticket.

He will fill the two years of the unexpired term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati Republican.

Bender nosed out in a close race Sen. Thomas A. Burke, Cleveland Democrat named to the Senate by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat, after the death of Taft.

National Vote Sets New Mark For Off-Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tabulations today showed the vote in Tuesday's elections set a new record for off-year voting. With many votes still to be counted, an Associated Press survey at 12:30 p. m. CST showed 44,682,128 ballots had been cast.

The previous off-year record vote came four years ago in 1950 when 40,351,922 votes were cast.

When President Eisenhower defeated Adlai Stevenson two years ago, an all-time national record of 61,547,861 votes were counted.

Republican State Sen. Dennis J. Collins, DeKalb, trounced his Democratic opponent by more than three to one in his bid for reelection in Tuesday's balloting in the 35th District.

Collins received 27,998 in the districts three counties, (Lee, Whiteside and DeKalb). John L. Fraser, Sandwich, had 9,062.

The vote by counties was:

Lee — Collins, 7,743; Fraser, 2,669.

Apparent Winner for Ogle Co. Sheriff

Allen Nips Powell in Ogle County

Has 88-Vote Margin In Unofficial Tally Of Sheriff's Race

OREGON —(Special)— Republican candidate for Ogle County sheriff, Charles B. Allen, Rochelle, held a slim 88 vote margin over Independent candidate Joseph C. Powell, Oregon, in Tuesday's voting.

Complete unofficial returns gave Allen 5,935 votes to 5,847 for Powell.

Political observers today suggested the possibility of a recount in the hotly contested election. But Powell refused comment today on such a possibility. Presumably he is waiting for the results of the official canvass of the votes which began this morning.

Ogle county officials did not complete an unofficial tally of the ballots before the official canvass began.

Twenty-nine of 36 precincts showed Joseph T. Meek, GOP senatorial candidate, leading incumbent Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas, 6,125 to 2,500.

The three Buffalo Township precincts (Polo) recorded a 593 to 425 vote favoring increasing the county highway fund from .0625 per cent on cash value to .10 per cent.

Whiteside GOP Post Victories

STERLING — (Special) — Two Whiteside County incumbent Republicans rolled up impressive margins over Democratic opponents in Tuesday's general election.

County Judge Walter Stevens, Sterling, polled 10,636 votes to 3,685 for his challenger, L. Willard Nelson, Morrison.

Treasurer Vern Deininger, Morrison, won 11,111 votes to 3,579 for David Cain, Tampico.

FDR Jr. Loses Bid for New York Office

NEW YORK (AP) Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., heir to one of the most politically potent names in American history, went down to defeat Tuesday in his first bid for state office, trailing badly behind the rest of a predominantly victorious Democratic ticket.

Running for the office of attorney general, the 40 year-old Roosevelt lost by a plurality of about 170,000 out of 5-million votes, to his Republican opponent, Rep. Jacob K. Javits.

It was the second reversal within a few months to the political ambitions of the man that the public has come to take "Young FDR."

Nickell Winner for School Post; Wright Is Trailing Mallett

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas won re-election and his party scored a net gain of three seats in the house in Tuesday's Illinois election

But the Republicans retained one important state office and late turns indicated they had kept control of both houses of the legislature.

Nickell Wins

Vernon L. Nickell of Champaign, a Republican, won his fourth term as state superintendent of public instruction by defeating his Democratic challenger, Mark A. Peterman of Springfield.

A close race was being run for another key state office—state treasurer.

Returns from 9,583 of the state's 9,775 precincts gave Douglas 1,766,819 and Meek 1,521,092.

Meek waited until 9 a. m. Wednesday to concede his defeat. He sent Douglas a telegram saying: "Mrs. Meek joins me in sincere congratulations to yourself and Mrs. Douglas."

Meek said also: "I ran ahead of the national picture so far."

Nickell, always a strong vote puller, maintained a lead over Peterman as the tabulation of results in their contest neared the end.

Returns from 9,461 precincts gave Nickell 1,585,382 and Peterman 1,563,592.

Close Finish

A close finish was indicated in the race between Republican Warren E. Wright and Democratic David E. Mallett for the state treasurer's office.

Returns from 9,775 precincts gave Mallett 1,599,675 and Wright 1,588,709.

The three Democratic entrants were in front in the contests for three posts as University of Illinois trustees a board now composed of six Republicans and three Democrats.

The Democratic candidates are Frances Best Watkins of Chicago and George Wirt Herrick of Clinton, both incumbents, and Kenney Williamson of Peoria. The Republican entrants are Vernon L. Heath of Robinson, Dr. Ralph H. Kunstadter of Chicago and Maurice Gantzert of Mazon.

Returns from 9,775 precincts gave Watkins 1,531,012, Herrick

Control May Rest With New Jersey

Tuesday's Vote No Landslide for Demos; GOP 'Push' a Factor

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Writer

Senate control in the new congress, where Democrats already are assured of a house margin of about 25 votes, teetered in the late election returns today on the outcome of hot races in New Jersey and Oregon.

From a record midterm outpouring of votes, Democrats had clinched 47 Senate seats, Republicans 46.

GOP Sen. Guy Gordon, bidding for re-election, was leading in Oregon and Republican Clifford P. Case had an edge in unofficial tabulations in New Jersey.

The GOP needed both seats for control. If it came down to the New Jersey contest, the issue could be left in doubt for days while disputed votes were settled.

Depend on Morse

Democrats could control the Senate with 48 votes because the lone Independent, Sen. Morse of Oregon, has said he will vote with them on organization.

Republicans, if they had 48 votes, could control since Vice President Nixon could break a tie in their favor.

For a time in the late tabulations Senate Republicans clung to a hope they could win without New Jersey as Rep. Wesley D'ewart gave a close run to veteran Democratic Sen. James Murray in Montana. But Murray pulled it out.

Republican Rep. George Bender came through in Ohio, beating Sen. Thomas A. Burke. Former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney scored for the Democrats in Wyoming, taking a seat the GOP held by appointment.

Eisenhower told a news conference that he did not see in the outcome any repudiation or disapproval of his administration's policies.

Demos Hopeful

On the Democratic side, it was plain their hopes were high for 1956 regardless of whether Eisenhower runs again. Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 nominee, called the election "a portent of things to come" and Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell pronounced, "We are more than half way back to the White House."

No Landslide

Democrats were pleased with the outcome, but it obviously did not reach the proportions some of them had expected -a circumstance that some Republicans said could be attributed to Eisenhower's own last minute campaigning and the vigorous drive made by Nixon.

In a give-and-take, Democrats took away Republican seats in Kentucky, Michigan, Nevada and Wyoming, while the Republicans retaliated by grabbing Democratic seats in Ohio, Colorado and Iowa.

Sen. Homer Ferguson, head of the Senate GOP policy committee and a recipient of Eisenhower's campaign help, had gone down under an avalanche of Wayne County (Detroit) ballots. The winner in this case was Democrat Patrick V. McNamara.

Saltonstall Wins

Before that, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, assistant majority leader, had rallied to defeat Democrat Foster Furcolo in Massachusetts.

In the face of razor-edge victories in governor contests in populous New York and Connecticut and a substantial win in Pennsylvania, the Democrats obviously had failed on the basis of the incomplete returns to muster a national sweep they could label without challenge as a repudiation of President Eisenhower's administration.

Ike Sees No Repudiation In Demos' House Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) President Eisenhower said today he sees no repudiation or disapproval of his administration's policies in Republican loss of the house to the Democrats.

The President told a news conference he plans to consult with the Democratic congressional leaders as well as Republican on both domestic and international matters during the new session of Congress convening in January.

With a trace of a smile, the President said he sees no point in butting his head against a stone wall.

At the time of the conference, 9:30 a.m. (CST), Democrats had clinched control of the House. Party control of the Senate still was in doubt.

Eisenhower volunteered at the outset of his session with newsmen, that in a lot of cases he was absolutely astonished and surprised by the election outcome.

At the same time the President announced to a news conference that Moorehead Patterson, New York businessman, had agreed to head U. S. negotiations looking to America's taking part in a proposed international atomic energy agency.

Patterson will serve under Secretary of State Dulles. Eisenhower said he will confer with Patterson Thursday "to tell him about the great importance which I attach" to this agency.

Secretary of State Dulles handed the message to the Soviets, delivering it to Russian Ambassador Georgi Zarubin here.

It is a reply to a Soviet memorandum of Sept. 22 in which the Russians indicated they wanted to renew negotiations on creation of an international atomic agency.

"I hope," Eisenhower said in a statement, "that this will start a new phase in the U.S.-U.S.S.R. negotiations which will be more fruitful than the first phase during which the Soviets showed a lack of interest in cooperation with the United States to further international cooperation in developing the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

The President emphasized however, that "we are determined to get on with this international project whether or not the Soviets participate."

OREGON — Having just returned from Sheep Production Day at the University of Illinois. I am sure that there was some information given out that sheep raisers in surrounding areas would be interested in knowing about.

Dale Rouse, of the Illinois Wool Marketing Association, discussed the present wool price and also the regulations for the 1955 wool crop. He assured us that those who have marketed through the wool pool in 1954 will receive 53 cents or more for their wool, depending upon quality and grade.

The price to be paid in 1955 will depend also upon grade. However, it is being supported at 106 per cent of parity, which is approximately 62 cents, top quality wool. The basis of payment for your particular wool crop will depend upon the selling price, and then you will receive 17 per cent differential, providing your wool is marketed through proper channels.

It will be necessary for you to file a report at the ASC office, whereby you make an application for an incentive payment on your wool crop. You will also have to file copies of the weight of wool and before any incentive payment is made, transportation cost and net sale price will have to be filed at the ASC office. Only wool sold after April 1, 1955, will be eligible on this incentive on the 1955 crop.

As far as feeding lambs, according to the University experimental results, we find that self-fed and the use of pelleted hay gave the largest daily gain and also had more lambs grading choice at 49 days than any other method of feeding. Average daily gain for this lot of lambs was .56 pounds.

On Friday, Nov. 5 there will be a beef cattle feeding program at the university. During the morning you will have an opportunity to inspect the steer management experiments at the beef cattle barns and also see various silage studies which are being featured at the barns. Steer carcasses from summer management trials will be on display at the stock pavilion.

The afternoon program will include reports on various cattle feeding experiments such as oat silage and beef cattle rations, progress in bloat studies, phosphorus supplement for beef cattle, cost and returns of gains in summer steer feeding programs, and L. H. Simerl, of the Agricultural Economics Department, will discuss the beef cattle situation and prospects for future feeding.

On Nov. 10, the Soil Conservation District of Ogle county is planning to hold the annual Farmers and Businessmens' Banquet. Businessmen from towns throughout the county will be there visiting with farmer friends and enjoying a speech given by the Rev. James D. McKelvey, Sterling.

Another highlight of the program will be the presentation of the Governor Stratton plaque for the winner of the "Save Your Soil For Illinois" contest. Also, awards will be given to the 4-H and FFA land judging winners.

World Community Day Observance Planned in Polo

POLO—The World Community Day program will be held at St. Mark's Lutheran Church Friday at 1:45 p.m. A nursery will be provided for mothers who wish to bring their children.

TRAVEL SMILES by Merry Miles

There was a scandal in my home town this week.

My maiden Aunt Jane wrote me all about it the other day. After she returned from her vacation this summer, an article appeared in the local paper saying, "Miss Jane Willam and Mr. John Austen have just returned from their vacation in California."

Well! There was plenty of raised eyebrows around town until everyone found out that "MR." John Austen was really Aunt Jane's 10-year-old nephew who lives with her!

Aunt Jane has her own car, but considering the driving strain on a long trip and the trouble driving in strange cities —she decided to go by Greyhound.

A big surprise for Aunt Jane came when she found out they could travel under Greyhound's "Family Plan". Johnny made the entire trip for just one-half the one-way fare (about 25% of what it cost Aunt Jane) . . . which saved her quite a lot.

And they had a lot of fun. Did a lot of sightseeing along the way, too. They stopped in interesting Salt Lake City . . . had a wonderful time riding the cable cars and exploring Chinatown in San Francisco . . . went thru the movie studios in Hollywood, and came back thru the cowboy country of Wyoming, which made a big hit with Johnny.

Because they wanted to stop at these different cities to go sightseeing, Aunt Jane was very enthused about a Greyhound service called "Slumber-Stop". The Greyhound agent made all their hotel reservations in advance—so after each day's ride . . . a hotel room was ready and waiting for them each night.

Well, after Aunt Jane got home—my sister, her husband and their two teen-age girls decided to spend a week in Chicago. My sister and her girls paid only the one-way fare for the round trip! (About one-half what her husband Jim paid). They visited the stores, saw a couple stage shows and said they had a barrel of fun. Especially Jim—he didn't have to drive all that way.

Enough about my family and the "Family Plan". I'll be back soon with some travel gossip from Omaha. I'm leaving for there by Scenicruiser tonight.

In its first year, millions of motorists have proved the benefits of

Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Here are the facts proved by millions:

1. TCP boosts your car's power as much as 15% (because it neutralizes power-robbing lead deposits).
2. TCP gives you extra gas mileage (motorists report up to 3 miles more per gallon).
3. TCP is just like an engine tune-up (because it lets you enjoy all your car's built-in power).
4. TCP increases spark-plug life up to 150% (because it actually fireproofs your spark plugs).
5. TCP makes it possible for you to enjoy all the extra performance of Conoco Super's higher-octane rating.

But don't take our word for it! Read what motorists, themselves, say about Conoco Super with TCP.

❶ "I remember when tetraethyl lead was first put into gasoline 31 years ago. Now comes Conoco Super with TCP! It's livened up my '51 Mercury—and now I get 3 more miles to the gallon."

Mr. John T. Knudsen, Traffic Officer
3089 South Fourth East, Salt Lake City, Utah

❷ "Conoco Super with TCP is doing everything it's promised in giving our '53 Cadillac extra mileage, power, and performance. We won't take any other gasoline, because TCP has no substitute."

Mr. S. E. Brooks, Retired RR Engineer
107 North Third, Belen, New Mexico

❸ "I maintain four cars and three trucks. In all of them, it's Conoco Super with TCP. I'm getting new-car performance! Starting on cold mornings is 50% better. I'm sold on Conoco Super!"

Mr. Ray B. Crowley, Wholesale Florist
Littleton, Colorado

❹ "Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP does the job as no other gasoline has done before. My 1950 Chevrolet runs quietly, doesn't make knocking noises, starts right up and goes farther to the gallon."

Mrs. S. J. Crosby, Housewife
415 West 8th Street, Anaconda, Montana

Mr. William Grabowski, Electrical Contractor
482 North Wirth Ave., Elgin, Illinois

McCarthy, Dixon-Yates Will Keep Senate Busy

Some 'Real Talking' Is Forecast for Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Get ready for some real talking that may last till Christmas.

The scorching campaign oratory which ended with Tuesday's elections may sound like giggles in a girls' finishing school when compared with what lies ahead.

The Senate now plunges into two of the bitterest, and perhaps the noisiest, wrangles of 1954.

Starting Thursday the Senate - House Atomic Energy committee begins hearings on the Dixon-Yates proposal to feed private power into the lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Sees Long Debate

And on Monday the full Senate opens debate on the motion to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Sen. Kerr (DOkla) predicts the Senate may spend the rest of the year arguing that one.

It's an argument which may be interrupted for a full-blown debate on the power question, according to Sen. Langer (R-ND), chairman of a subcommittee which already has held some hearings on Dixon-Yates.

In fact, Langer says the McCarthy censure problem may "shrink into insignificance" when the Dixon-Yates dispute gets going.

At this point most forecasts indicate McCarthy is going to be censured. No mater what the outcome, the debate will serve to pull McCarthy out of the comparative oblivion in which he retired, or was retired, during most of the election campaign.

It was pretty apparent this was one campaign which Republican party strategists wanted McCarthy to sit out. He had planned some speeches but cancelled them.

A "Lulu"

He could make good use of his time preparing for the debate ahead. It looks like a lulu.

Since his political life may be at stake, McCarthy can be expected to give the censure debate all he has.

Under the Dixon-Yates contract ordered by Eisenhower, the Atomic Energy Commission would buy power from that private utility group for delivery to the TVA at Memphis.

This power, to be supplied by a 107-million-dollar plant built at West Memphis, Ark., would be used by TVA to replace a like amount of power TVA supplies to atomic plants.

Critics have contended the private power cost the government more than the same electricity if supplied by TVA. They argue it may be an entering wedge to destroy TVA. The Eisenhower administration says the proposal is a reasonable and practical way of supplying power to the area.

Demos Pick Up Illinois House Seats

Allen Wins But May Lose Powerful Chairmanship

CHICAGO (AP)—Three new Democratic Congressmen were named by Illinois voters in Tuesday's election.

Unofficial returns today showed a new lineup of the state's delegation to the U. S. House of Representatives of 13 Republicans and 12 Democrats.

The 25-member House delegation in the 83rd Congress had a Republican majority of 16 to 9.

Republican incumbents were defeated in the Chicago 3rd and 12th Districts and in the 25th District covering extreme southern Illinois.

The House outcome became clear with complete returns showing Republican Rep. William E. McVey an easy victor over former Rep. William A. Rowan, Democrat, in Chicago's 4th District.

Demos Win

The three races in which Democrats ousted Republican House members were these:

Third District — James C. Murray, Chicago, Democratic assistant Cook County state's attorney, defeated Rep. Fred E. Busbey, Chicago Republican.

Twelfth District — Charles A. Boyle, Chicago attorney, scored an easy upset of Republican Rep. Edgar E. Jonas, Chicago.

Twenty-fifth — Democratic auto dealer Kenneth E. Gray of East St. Louis won a close contest with Republican Rep. C. W. (Runt) Bishop of Carterville.

No Democratic Congressmen were defeated in Illinois contests. Two targets singled out by Republican forces for blitz efforts—Rep. Sidney Yates in Chicago's 9th District and Rep. Peter F. Mack of Carlinville in the Central Illinois 21st District—stood off strong challenges.

O'Hara Wins

Another Democratic incumbent thought by observers to be in trouble in his marginal Chicago 2nd District—Rep. Barrett O'Hara—won handily over former Rep. Richard B. Vail.

Republican Rep. Harold H. Velde of Pekin, chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee in the 83rd Congress, won reelection, fending off a strong bid by Howard S. Beeney, Peoria seed dealer, in the 18th District.

One downstate race on which the Democrats had counted heavily saw veteran GOP Rep. Charles W. Vursell of Salem the victor over Albert R. Imle of Hillsboro.

Illinois' Republican woman House member, Marguerite Stitt Church of Evanston, won handily in the 13th District over Democrat Richard A. Griffin of Libertyville.

Fails in Bid

The only Democratic woman challenger, Mrs. Helen J. Kelleher of Oak Park, failed in her bid to unseat GOP Richard W. Hoffman of Riverside in the 10th District race.

One Republican leader House Rules Chairman Leo E. Allen of Galena, won his 16th District seat without even token opposition, but, with the prospect of organization of the 84th Congress House by the Democrats, stood to lose his powerful committee post.

Other GOP House committee chairmen of the last Congress who won Tuesday were Sid Simpson of Carrollton, District of Columbia; Robert B. Chiperfield of Canton, Foreign Affairs, and Chauncey W. Reed of West Chicago, Judiciary.

It's The Average Man That Statisticians Love to Study

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Everyone is busy today telling you just what the election statistics mean—and how the result will affect you in the months ahead.

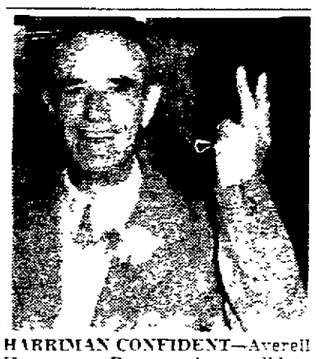
But this statistical interest in "you" isn't confined to just the day you vote. It goes on every day — at both the governmental and private business levels. And now they even have big machines into which "you" can be pitched in the form of a punched card—and out comes a statistical appraisal of almost every part of your life.

Federal slide-rule boys are busy telling you and your neighbors how many of you have jobs and how many haven't. They tell you how much you make, how much you spend and how much you save.

If none of this seems to fit you particularly, it's just because you aren't "average" — and it's the average man the statistician loves.

Federal activities along these lines cost you about 40 million dollars a year. This year an additional 25 millions will be spent on a census of agriculture and another of business, manufactures and mineral industries. Some 10,000 persons are employed to gather and process statistics.

The 65 million dollars to be spent this year, however, is less than half of the total the government spends in a single day (175 million) on all its activities.



HARRIMAN CONFIDENT—Averell Harriman, Democratic candidate for governor of New York, gives a victory salute after casting his ballot in Central Valley, N. Y., about 50 miles north of New York City. Harriman won over Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) in election to succeed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who was not a reelection candidate. (AP wirephoto)

20th Century Bigamy

Girls Wed Corporations

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — An ambitious girl today doesn't merely marry a man. She marries the corporation he works for, too.

It has become a kind of 20th Century bigamy.

For it is an open secret that many large corporations now don't make a man an executive solely on the basis of his work in the office.

No indeedy. That is only half of it. The corporation spot checks his wife also, to be sure that she measures up to its requirements.

This arises a strange new industrial concept—the ideal "corporate wife."

A Cold Study

The idea of being coldly studied by the bifocal gaze of a huge corporation is rather frightening to the average wife.

"I think I know how to please my husband," she says, "but how does a girl go about keeping a corporation happy?"

Suppose her husband sells Bunks. She is unnerved by the thought that in some mysterious way she may commit a blunder, a blunder that will not only cause her husband to lose out on a promotion to district sales manager but also cause General Motors itself to drop 30 points on the stock market. It's an awful big responsibility to put on the shoulders of one frail but well-meaning woman.

Fortunately, she has some tips to guide her. But they tend only to give her a feeling of inferiority. For surveys of the "ideal corporate wife" shows that washing behind her ears, keeping her husband well-fed and contented, and raising her kids are hardly enough.

She should dress well but not too well, be "the college type," develop social charm, put her husband's job first at all times, keep abreast of his business but keep her nose out of it, be active in the community, stay within her household budget, never be jealous of her husband's secretary or associates, and so forth and so on.

She's A Merger

Put more simply, she should merge the qualities of Florence Nightingale, Mary Margaret McBride, Mother Machree, Catherine the Great of Russia, and a female Dale Carnegie.

Otherwise, if she asks her husband in 1974 why he hasn't had a raise in pay for 20 years, she is likely to be crushed by the reply:

"Remember that time we went out to the boss's house in 1954, and you dressed in such a hurry that your slip showed? Well, that's what ruined my career. The boss decided right then you'd never be the ideal corporate wife, and there was no point in promoting me because you'd only make the corporation look untidy."

An Unrealistic Plan

India's revulsion over the prospect of a war fought with annihilating nuclear weapons is shared by all men of good will. But India's proposal for an arms truce pending conclusion of a disarmament treaty is totally unrealistic, and has been properly rejected in the United Nations.

The Indian plan would not even have allowed use of A or H-bombs to repel aggression. The Indian representatives sought complete prohibition of such weapons.

The flaw in this arrangement should be obvious, even to the Indians. Not the use, but the threat, of atomic weapons by the United States is acknowledged to be a principal deterrent to Soviet aggression.

That threat strikes home in the Kremlin only because of the superiority we have long enjoyed over Russia both in numbers and kinds of nuclear weapons. Should we at any time interrupt the production that is giving us this margin, then our leverage for peace—and the whole West's would quickly be weakened.

The recent disclosure that Russia is conducting another series of atomic tests is a pointed reminder that Soviet leaders have been bending all effort to close that gap.

One might argue that an armament truce would also interrupt Russian production. But that presupposes an iron-clad system of arms inspection that would allow international representatives to check on output within the Soviet Union. The Russians have refused to countenance such a system in any and all disarmament discussions.

So the only truce Russia would agree to would be one weak on inspection, which would leave the Communists relatively free to go on closing the atomic gap, while our great deterrent force would be frozen.

Furthermore, such a truce would ignore the fact that Russia possesses a great preponderance of strength in land armies. These presumably would be held in being despite the arms ban, and would contribute heavily to a shift of power toward the Soviet orbit.

Any arms plan, whether intermediate truce or permanent disarmament treaty, can have no meaning whatsoever without adequate enforcement provisions. The Indians have taken part in world councils long enough now to appreciate that a proposal offered without these checks is wasted breath

If India's leaders ever have any realistic moments, they must have some understanding of how fortunate they are that America does indeed enjoy so marked an advantage in nuclear armament. For otherwise they might long since have found the unwelcome Red visitor on their doorstep.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours. With Grace Kelly the latest member the NSGQ gals are in the Hollywood spotlight again

NSGQ means Near Sighted Glamor Queens who can see only a few feet without glasses but whose sex appeal feats made them famous. Marilyn Maxwell and Esther Williams who are charter members, once went together to a local eye-training school to do something about it

They were told, "Before you start the course we insist you throw away your glasses."

Says Marilyn: "Esther and I walked right out. Without glasses, we'd be killing people in our automobiles and unable to even read scripts."

What's the glamor secret of near-sighted dolls like Kelly, Maxwell and Williams?

"Maybe," said Marilyn between shows at Ciro's, "it's because the iris of the eye dilates and looks sleepily sexy when who take off our glasses."

It's marriage Nov. 21 for Marilyn and screen writer Jerry Davis and then more musical queening in movies and on TV. Her singing and dancing act at Ciro's proved Marilyn is something besides a blonde menace and "besides I played the character for the last time in 'New York Confidential.' They killed me in the last reel. She's good and dead."

HOLLYWOOD was quick to jump after newspaper headlines about NBC's prediction of electronic marvels. But as usual the movies are dopping the scientists with "The Bride of the Atom," a Bela Lugosi film. Sounds like tough competition for Tommy Manville.

The New Social Menace: She's the Compliment Killer

When a group of women get together there is usually one Compliment Killer in the crowd

The Compliment Killer can stab a compliment in the back with one quick jab

Someone remarks on what a beautiful home Betty has and the Compliment Killer asks, "If you could spend money like she does, who couldn't have a beautiful house?"

If someone remarks on what wonders losing 10 pounds did for Elsie, the Compliment Killer points out that Elsie looks simply terrible since she lost weight. And goes on to describe her sunken cheeks and scrawny neck

If another woman is spoken of with admiration because she is active in community affairs the Compliment Killer is sure to feel sorry for her neglected husband and children.

THERE'S ONE IN EVERY CROWD

If a woman is praised as the kind of mother who welcomes the neighborhood gang and always seems to have fun with her own children the Compliment Killer is sure to ask "But have you ever SEEN her house? You have to move something to have a place to sit down."

If a woman's looks receive a favorable comment, the Compliment Killer either points out how much she spends on clothes how she pampers herself or if neither of those remarks seem to fit says "I suppose she is good looking—if you like the type."

There isn't a compliment the Compliment Killer can't handle

And the sad thing is that there is one in almost any group

What's Right?

Some people routinely start off a friendly letter with an apology for not having written sooner. That is a poor start. You'll write a much better letter if you leave off the unnecessary apology and get right into whateved you have to say

A good team of Arctic sled dogs can cover 100 miles in a day with a light load

Westbrook Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The policy of the New York Times in matters affected by Communism has become a subject of controversy. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, the publisher, a graduate of the textile industry became a journalist of amusing, if not altogether valid, grandeur after he had married the daughter of Adolph Ochs, the publisher who founded such good repute as the paper once enjoyed. His son-in-law is a versatile fellow. He has plumped for both interpretive and strictly objective reporting.

Westbrook Pegler

The Times of Sunday, Oct 3 published an obituary of Alice Prentice Barrows. The Times said she had been a "noted specialist in school building problems, who devoted 41 years to the cause of education." Her age was 77. Actually she devoted herself to Communist designs in public education

This woman was as Red as a slit throat and was hostess to the historic and notorious dinner party in Washington in 1933 at which she and other Reds outlined their programs of Communist revolution in which Roosevelt was to play the role which Kerensky had played in Russia. Dr. William A. Wirt, a genuine educator then superintendent of schools in Gary, Ind., was one of the guests He soon became the victim of a ferocious and merciless campaign of character-assassination

But the New York Times which can froth at the mouth at the enormity of Joe McCarthy's hostility to traitors and their patrons and protectors did not think the persecution of Wirt was worthy of note in the orbit of the hateful old harridan who was at the bottom of it

A New York man who keeps track of the Times' inconsistencies wrote to Turner Catledge, managing editor, that the Barrows obit, though charitable to the deceased 'was not fair to the memory of Doctor Wirt." He reminded the Times that this woman had been the first witness before a select House committee organized for the sole purpose of destroying Wirt. The Times' obituary absolutely ignored the Wirt episode although it was by far the most important single occurrence in Miss Barrows' career

The Times did report that in 1953 she refused to answer to the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security 'whether she had ever been a Communist.' The Congressional Record contains a challenge to this version In an extension of remarks by Congressman Fred A. Busbey of Chicago a redoubtable Republican Red-hater, last April 12, Busbey said the Barrows woman was not asked merely whether she had ever been "a Communist." She was asked whether she had ever been "a member of the Communist party." She took the Fifth Amendment.

Moreover, the Times assuaged her conduct in this particular instance by stating that she had often heard an uncle declare that the highest level of liberty was the liberty of the meanest citizen. Therefore, this uncle is alleged to have concluded that the Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence were the greatest "expressions of human freedom." And Miss Barrows, after her death, was made to rely on a high-flown but meaningless recourse to documents which she had worked many years to destroy

Robert Garst, assistant managing editor of the Times replied to the reader that he was 'a little puzzled' by the criticism of the obit, because it contained no mention whatever of Doctor Wirt He said it was 'completely adequate as to Miss Barrows' career and should not appear unfair to the memory of anyone else."

On the contrary, the obit was unfair first of all to the public in failing to present appropriate evidence that this woman was not only at best a fellow-traveler of the Red Treason and let the readers draw their own conclusions. And it was unfair to Wirt's memory because he died under a cloud of disrepute which she and others equally hateful created not only to destroy him but to warn others against the risk of character-assassination inherent in any attack on the treason of the New Deal.

Alice Barrows had been Wirt's private secretary in the New York school system about 1914. He trusted her on the basis of that old confidential association when he accepted an invitation to dine at her home. After that party Wirt wrote a memorandum for limited circulation in Washington which presently came to the attention of a New Deal committee of Congress Thereupon a special House committee of three Democrats and two Republicans were chosen to hound Wirt, destroy his character and drive him into oblivion

John O'Connor a New York Democrat who later was 'purged' by Roosevelt for opposing 'the plan to pack the federal courts with pro-Communist judges 'took counsel of his conscience in 1940 and wrote a total abject confession which he began by saying "I desire to relieve my conscience of a matter which has long burdened it."

He then admitted that "the committee immediately met and discussed rules as how to prevent the Republican minority from converting the hearings into an investigation of the truth of the charges."

He wrote "The motion which I, personally, presented limited the hearings to an examination of Wirt to bring out the names and exact statements of his informants Over the protests of the Republicans any examination of other persons was excluded I took a leading part as prosecutor and inquisitor I was quite severe going so far as to oppose the appearance of the late distinguished ex-Senator James A. Reed as Wirt's counsel This courtesy had sometimes been extended to witnesses Wirt, however, was not allowed to have his counsel examine witnesses nor was he called in rebuttal after they had staged their well staged denials I say 'well-staged' because it was known that six of them had met and rehearsed their denials The pack got the smell of blood and a great job was done"

The Barrows woman was a pioneer Red in the New Deal and there is congressional data showing that she belonged to many notorious Communist fronts She never made the slightest gesture of compassion toward the victim of her perfidy.

These further facts will balance the obit printed by the New York Times In the minds of some they may leave some question still whether the Times upheld its own motto, "All the News That's Fit to Print."

Miss Mary A. Ransom, Nelson, has returned from a tour of three continents, the time of travel being five weeks.

From Lima, Peru, and Rio, Brazil, South America, her tour of eight people, including the guide, flew to Dakar, Africa, from where they flew to Leopoldville and to Bukabu. There they took a car and drove through the Belgian Congo for 1,500 miles, going from there to Lake Victoria, on to Cairo, and then to several European countries, including Greece, Italy, France and England.

Miss Ransom was specially interested in her tour of the Belgian Congo, both on account of the colorful costumes and odd habits of the natives and because of the many sightsof wild animals in their native habitat. Twice the party was within 40 feet of two elephants, and the driver stopped the car, telling his passengers not to make a sound, or the beasts might trample the car. They waited for the mammoth animals to move away before they proceeded.

They saw natives in exotic costumes attending a fair, noticing particularly the clothes they wore. The cloth now is made at textile mills at Leopoldville and is produced in lovely colors and a variety of patterns.

The road on which they travelled through this part of the country originally was built by the natives, who formerly used it for one-way traffic, going north for three days and south for three days. Now it has been widened.

The party went into the Albert National Park and the new Queen Elizabeth Park, consisting of thousands of acres of wild scenery—

There has been no hunting since 1923, and wild animals abound. There are no railroads in the Congo country, and walking, or riding in plane or car, is the usual method of transportation.

Speaking of Buckabu, Miss Ransom stated that there are many great orchards there. Millionaires go there from many countries on account of the low taxes, and make investments in coffee and tea plantations. There is a temperature change there of only four degrees the year around. The temperature in the Congo varies from 72 degrees to 86 degrees.

She spoke of the beautiful sight on leaving Rio, when the seven mile long beach was lighted at night, and from the plane the beach at Copa Cabana looked like a gigantic necklace.

London was chilly, said Miss Ransom, and in Rome it rained. She considered England especially friendly, and spoke of the attitude of goodwill she found in all the countries.

When Miss Ransom's party was in London, they saw the Queen meeting Hailie Selassie, an unusual and interesting experience.

Pathfinder magazine was the instigator of this tour, and had the agency outline it. Last year the same tour had a membership of 29. The agency now is considering a tour of the Amazon river, also a world tour of North America, Japan, Siam, India, Pakistan and the Holy Land.

Miss Ransom took many colored pictures of her interesting travels, but as yet they have not been returned.

Whips Meek

The state's delegation to congress will be split now between 13 Republicans and 12 Democrats. The three unseated congressmen are Republicans.

Rep. C. W. (Runt) Bishop, who was bidding for his eighth straight two-year term, was defeated by Kenneth Gray, West Frankfort auto dealer.

Democratic Charles A. Boyle, 47, a Chicago lawyer, ousted Rep. Edgar Jones in the 12th district.

Rep. Fred E. Busbey was defeated by Democrat James C. Murray, an assistant state's attorney in Cook county, in the third district.

The Democrats scored a sweep of major offices in Cook county.

Jacob M. Arvey, Democratic national committeeman, said Gov. William G. Stratton, the state's top Republican leader, "won the county for us."

"He dictated the local ticket," Arvey told newsmen, "and he injected himself into the campaign. The results show he has fallen off his pedestal."

Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and former governor of Illinois, hailed his party's gains as a "portent of things to come."

Important to Adlai

And the things to come, in the opinion of political observers, concern Stevenson, too.

Meek had said that a defeat for Douglas would take Stevenson out of the 1956 nomination picture. Conversely, a win for Douglas would enhance Stevenson's chance for the nomination.

Gov. Stratton remains pretty much in tight control of the state government. But he had said that a defeat for Meek would be a reflection on his administration.

The total vote in Illinois was indicated at around 3,600,000. That may prove to be the smallest in eight years.

Illinois House In GOP Control

Democrats Show Gains In State Balloting

CHICAGO (AP) – The Republicans were assured continued control of the Illinois House of Representatives on the basis of unofficial returns of Tuesday's election.

With two district contests between candidates of both parties undecided today, the GOP had secured 79 seats—two more than the bare majority needed for organization of the House—and the Democrats has 72 seats assured.

The election results showed narrowing of the Republican majority of 86 to 67 won two years ago, and, despite continued minority status, the Democrats figure to be an important factor in deciding controversial legislation at the next session of the General Assembly in 1955.

The gain of five seats in the Senate by Republicans was matched by an increase of six in the number of Democratic Senate seats, but the Republicans retained Senate control with a 32 to 19 majority. Thus, both Houses at Springfield probably will continue in harmony with the Republican administration of Gov. William G. Stratton.

Polo Voters Okay Library Tax Levy

POLO — (Special) — Polo area voters Tuesday approved a one per cent tax to be levied for maintenance and operation of the Buffalo Township Library in Polo.

The three township precincts registered 745 votes in favor of the tax, and 338 votes against it.

Pleads Guilty To Killing Wife and Son

OREGON —(Special)— Kenneth Collins, 32, Rochelle, today entered a plea of guilty to two charges of first-degree murder in the deaths of his common law wife, Theresa, 26, and his son, Kenneth Jr., 11 months, on Sept. 14.

Collins appeared in Ogle County Circuit Court before Judge Leon A. Zick this afternoon. He had been indicted by the Ogle grand jury.

Judge Zick sentenced Collins to life imprisonment, on recommendiation of State's Attorney Wayne Bettner. He will be confined in Stateville penitentiary, Joliet.

After his arrest, Collins admitted to Sheriff James White that he turned on gas jets in the couple's home while the woman and child slept.

Authorities said Collins had submitted to lie detector tests in Chicago last week with the provision that the results could be used as evidence. The officials said the tests "went against" Collins.

Blue Ballots Win Easily

proval by overwhelming margins in Tuesday's Illinois election.

Nearly complete returns showed the blue ballot amendments gained many more than the necessary number of votes. Each of the amendments need a majority of the total number of votes cast, or two-thirds of the votes cast only on the amendments.

Favorable action on the amendment requiring reapportionment of the state legislature would result in the first legislative redistricting since 1901. The amendment would set up a new system of representatives in the general assembly.

Cook county would gain a slight majority in the house of representatives and downstate would get a somewhat larger majority in the senate. Downstaters now hold a majority of legislative seats in both house and senate.

Both Republican and Democratic party leaders supported the reapportionment amendment, which was sponsored by Republican Gov. William G. Stratton.

Control May

on, his chief campaign assistant, had to do with blunting the Democrats' off-year drive remained a matter of political conjecture.

Eisenhower's blessing for Republican Joseph T. Meek did not prevent Meek's defeat by Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in Illinois. Neither did a presidential endorsement keep Republican Rep. Herbert B. Warburton from being beaten by Democratic Sen. Allen Frear Jr. in Delaware.

Williams Wins

And Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who criticized the Eisenhower administration for not acting to meet what he said was widespread unemployment, won an unprecedented fourth term in Michigan.

Republican Lt. Gov. Gordon Allott, who bore Eisenhower's blessing, upset the pollsters by defeating Democratic former Rep. John A. Carroll in the Colorado Senate race. And Republican Rep. Thomas E. Martin, an all-out supporter of the President's flexible farm price support program, ousted veteran Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette in agricultural Iowa.

"Veep" Winner

Venerable Alben W. Barkley, the former "Veep" and sometimes called "Mr. Democrat," took the measure of Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky for the Democrats' first Senate gain.

Eisenhower had visited the state twice and praised Cooper.

Alan Bible made it No. 2 in Senate gains for the Democrats, defeating Republican Sen. Ernest S. Brown, who had been appointed after the death of Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada.

New Dealer Averell Harriman led the parade of Democrats who turned Republicans out of governorships. He squeaked through by a 10,000 margin out of more than 5 million New York State votes, defeating Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives. Republicans were saying that Eisenhower's campaigning for Ives had made this a close one.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican whose political future might be affected by Ives' loss, ordered a police guard on all voting machines pending a public recanvass of the votes.

In Connecticut, Democratic Rep. Abraham A. Ribicoff took the measure of Republican Gov. John Lodge by about 7,000 votes. Pennsylvania completed the swing down the Atlantic Coast started by the Democrats' election of Edmund S. Muskie as Maine's governor in September.

Goes Democratic

In Pennsylvania, Democrat George M. Leader triumphed over Republican Lloyd H. Wood. In Maryland, however, Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin broke the Democratic trend by winning re-election over Harry C. Byrd. It was the first time the state has given a Republican two terms.

Democratic Sen. Edwin C. Johnson made the successful transition back to the governorship in Colorado, Eisenhower's vacation state, and Democrat John F. Simms Jr. won in New Mexico.

An old Senate Democratic colleague, Ernest W. McFarland, made a successful comback in Arizona, ousting Republican Gov. Howard Pyle.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio won a fifth term.

The gubernatorial results, as well as some Senate and House races, seemed to indicate that Eisenhower's "peace and prosperity" theme of the closing days of the campaign failed to offset entirely the reaction to the "pocketbook nerve" touched by unemployment in industrial centers.

No Pattern

But there seemed no clear pattern of farm rejection for the President's flexible farm price support program. In fact, Republicans fared better in farm areas than in some others.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, called the results an "unmistakable" victory for the Democrats.

Runaway Car Crashes Into Another Auto

A Polo doctor's car became the third run-away car in two days to be reported to the Dixon police department.

Officer A. R. Wilson reported that Dr. L. R. McDaniels, 50, parked his car in KSB Hospital parking lot but the brake apparently released about 11:15 a.m. Tuesday and let the car roll down the grade and hit the parked car of A. Vick, 910 S. Galena, Dixon.

Wilson said the Vick car was parked on First Street facing west and was considerably damaged.

Blame Ice for Auto Accident

A Des Moines, Ia., physician escaped with minor injuries Tuesday after he lost control of his car on an icy spot on Rt. 30 and hit a drainage culvert.

Dr. Hugh S. Geirger, jr., 36, told State Policemen Robert Fischer and Earl Barriball he was traveling west on the slippery highway and lost control of his car when he hit an icy spot about one and one-half miles west of the junction of Rts. 30 and 52. The accident happened about 7:45 a.m.

Fischer estimated the damage to the car at $300.

Minute steaks taste divine cooked this way. Cook the steaks lightly in hot butter in a large skillet; don't try to get them really brown or they'll be overdone. Top them with a dollop of butter, a good squeeze of lemon juice, salt and freshly-ground pepper.

Canned green asparagus tastes especially good if, after it is heated and drained, it is sprinkled with buttered crumbs. When you are mixing the melted butter and crumbs together for the topping, add a dash of paprika for color.

Always dry scrubbing brushes with the bristles down to prevent them from rotting at the base.

Wall Street Likes Result Of Elections

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged ahead today in a strong advance reflecting satisfaction with election results.

The general Wall street opinion was that the outcome was better than Republicans had expected and therefore pleasing to the stock market.

Gains in many key areas went to between one and three points with a few higher priced stocks moving well past that level. Losses were hard to find.

Trading hit a pace near the three million mark, one of the highest totals of the year. Only 1,790,000 shares were traded Monday in a rising market.

All major divisions advanced with the best gains shown by steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts, radio-televisions, utilities, chemicals, railroads, oils, airlines, coppers, and building materials.

Advances of one to three points were scored by Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Bendix Aviation, Zenith Radio, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, American Metal, Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Amerada Petroleum, Eastern Airlines, and Johns-Manville.

U. S. government securities were steady.

No Farm Uprising Seen In Tuesday's Balloting

Farm Belt States Hold To Flexible Price Line

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a controversy over the flexible price support program, Republicans marked up significant election victories Tuesday in politically important farm belt states.

Some successful GOP candidates differed with the administration but the overall results did not represent, in the view of observers here, a repudiation of the new farm policies pushed through Congress by President Eisenhower.

Nearly complete returns indicated that congressional and statehouse gains made by Democrats were confined largely to urban areas of the country.

Vote of Confidence

The Midwest results were viewed, too, as a farmer vote of confidence in Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who spearheaded the administration drive for variable farm price guarantees to replace war-born high, rigid floors.

Counted out by his critics several times since he started plugging a program aimed at "taking the government out of agriculture," Benson's position appeared to be stronger than ever. Benson's home state, Utah, sent two GOP house members back to Washington despite the late withdrawal of one candidate, Rep. Douglas Stringfellow. Utah had no Senate contest.

Democrats had expected declining farm prices to help swing Midwest farmers their way—just as farmer dissatisfaction with the GOP-controlled 80th Congress helped former President Harry S. Truman stage his surprise victory over GOP nominee Thomas E. Dewey in 1948.

Hold Their Own

The Republicans held their own Tuesday in most farm-belt congressional districts that are traditionally Republican.

The GOP staged a major upset in defeating Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette in Iowa—a key farm state.

Gillette's defeat was regarded as significant because he had campaigned against the GOP flexible support program—a program endorsed by Rep. Thomas E. Martin, his GOP conqueror. Most political observers had forecast victory for Gillette.

In Kansas—where wheat farmers have been plagued by declining prices—GOP incumbent Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel won on the flexible support issue, defeating former Democratic Sen. George McGill.

The GOP showing in the Midwest probably means that Secretary Benson's standing at the White House has been strengthened considerably.

Awaited Election

Some Republican congressmen had indicated before the election that if the GOP farm program were rebuffed at the polls, they would renew earlier demands that Benson be asked to resign and that the administration revamp its farm policies.

The farm area results also may weaken the hold of high price support backers in the Democratic party and strengthen the influence of a group led by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, a staunch advocate of flexible supports. Anderson won reelection Tuesday.

Illini Professor Helped Bannister in Mile

Says Wheat Germ Aids Circulation

Daily Dose Helps Increase Endurance, Physical Capacity

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—A champion athlete or a stoop-shouldered professor gets the same advice at the physical fitness laboratory at the University of Illinois.

The advice is this: Take exercise to improve blood circulation and wheat germ oil to supplement diet.

Dr. T. K. Cureton, head of the laboratory, says the formula got results for Roger Bannister, the world's fastest runner of the mile. He says he advised Bannister in England before Bannister ran the mile in less than four minutes.

He says it also aided Jody Alderson, the fastest girl free-style swimmer in the United States, members of teams at the University, and hundreds of professors and townsfolk who seek his advice on attaining pep and endurance in and beyond middle age.

'Sagging, Bagging'

Dr. Cureton says that, while athletes have benefited, he has obtained the best results with sedentary middle-aged men who were "sagging, bagging and falling to pieces."

He worked for years on the theory that circulation is the key to maintaining vigor in an aging body. Two years ago he coupled exercise with dietary supplements.

Cureton, a professor of physical education says:

"We've tried vitamins, gelatin, fruit juices, hormones and other foods in the laboratory, but wheat germ oil has consistently shown the best results in enabling men to bear hard stress without deteriorating.

For Publication

"However, to achieve best results the tiny capillary blood vessels throughout the body must be opened up through exercise before the nutrient supplement is taken."

Cureton says he is preparing, for publication in scinetific journals, results of an experiment which showed: A teaspoon of wheat germ oil taken daily in conjunction with exercise increased the physical capacity and endurance of middle-aged professors by as much as 51.5 per cent.

Pick Navy End Top Lineman

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Navy's Ron Beagle, a 6-foot, 185-pound end who rocked Notre Dame on defense and ran the Irish ragged with his pass catches in the Middies' 6-0 defeat last Saturday, was named Associated Press Lineman of the Week today.

It was Beagle, a 20-year-old junior from Covington, Ky., who teamed with quarterback Georgie Welsh in a passing attack that perked up the Navy offense and almost paid off in a tying touchdown in the third period.

Beagle snared a Welsh toss on the Notre Dame six and had an open path to the touchdown, but the slippery field spilled him as he tried to cut after making the catch. Four plays later the Middies fumbled just a foot from the goal and Notre Dame recovered in the end zone.

Beagle's defensive play matched his offensive work and prompted Edward (Moose) Krause, Notre Dame athletic director, to praise him as "one of the best defensive players I've seen this year. Truly an All America."

6 Lettermen Included in 14 Illini Cage Candidates

Dutcher, Brothers, Judson, Ridley, Plew, Sterneck Out

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Fourteen basketball players, six of them returning lettermen, reported to Coach Harry Combes Tuesday to begin the 1954-55 basketball season at the University of Illinois.

The six lettermen who helped the team finish third in the Big Ten race last season are Jim Dutcher, Bruce Brothers, Paul Judson, Bill Ridley, Elmer Plew and Morris Sterneck.

Missing from the team was Captain-elect Ed Makovsky, senior forward who dropped from school because of scholastic ineligibility.

Also among those returning were Phil Judson and Bob Leigh, squad members last season.

Among the newcomers was Bill Boneck transfer student from the Navy Pier branch. Others were sophomores Harvey Schmidt, Kankakee; Dick Rapp, Kankakee; Bill Altenberger, East St. Louis; George Bon Salle, Chicago Loyola, and Jim Burks, Horse Cave, Ky.

Illinois opens its season at Huff gym against Butler University Dec. 2.

More players are expected to join the squad at the conclusion of the football season.

Olson Tunes Up Against Panter

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Garth Panter, whose only ring finesse is to bore in and keep swinging, faces the slightly Herculean job tonight of trying to beat the world middleweight champion, Carl (Bobo) Olson.

The 10-round nontitle clash will be nationally televised by CBS.

It is scheduled for 9 p.m. CST.

This will be Olson's tuneup fight for his title defense against Joey Giardello in a 15-rounder at the San Francisco Cow Palace Dec. 15.

The champ, who never takes an opponent lightly, is expected to set a fast pace. It will be his second meeting with Panter. Olson won a 10-round decision in Butte early last year and from all accounts had a tough battle on his hands.

Panter is a 24-yearold ironworker now fighting out of Salt Lake City. He's rough and ready and will take three punches to land one.

49ers Rush, Not Pass, to NFL Crown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If the San Francisco 49ers win the National Football League's western division crown they'll probably be the first pro team to "run" to the title in many years.

Pro football teams in recent seasons have used the running game merely as a diversion for the all-important forward pass. The Cleveland Browns with Otto Graham, Los Angeles with Bob Waterfield and Norman Van Brocklin, Detroit with Bobby Layne have all been great passing teams. Most fans probably couldn't tell you who the star runner or runners were for those clubs.

Not Since '40's

Now comes San Francisco with Hugh McElhenney, Joe Perry and John Johnson lugging the ball. Not since Steve Van Buren and Bosh Pritchard were in their prime with the Philadelphia Eagles in the late 1940's has any team had a running game worth of mention.

The latest National Football League statistics show McElhenny leading the league in ground gaining with an eight-yard average per carry. But the former Washington U. ace who has carried 61 times for 515 yards, suffered a shoulder separation against Chicago's Bears and will be out for the season. Perry has a 6.1 yard average on 73 attempts for 446 yards. Johnson ranks fourth behind Tank Younger of Los Angeles with a 5.9 norm for 56 carries good for 333 yards. Younger has gained 419 yards on 69 attempts for a 6.1 average.

Pass Leader

Van Brocklin continues to lead the passers on a 10.3 average. The Ram ace has thrown 145 passes, completed 78 for 1,501 yards and six touchdowns. Otto Graham, sparkplug of the resurgent Cleveland Browns, is second with an 8.7 average, 119 passes, 75 completed, 1,036 yards and nine TDs. Bobby Thomason of Philadelphia ranks third with an 8.4 average, 74 thrown, 38 completed, 622 yards gained six TDs.

Other leaders include:

Pass receiving — Billy Wilson, San Francisco, 32 caught to 29 for Bob Boyd of Los Angeles, Bill Howton of Green Bay, Ray Mathews of Pittsburgh and Pete Pihos of Philadelphia, all tied for second.

Scoring—Bob Walston, despite a broken jaw, kicked two extra points against Green Bay to up his leading total to 73. Doak Walker of Detroit with 51 and Harlon Hill, who scored four TDs for the Chicago Bears Sunday and now has 48 points, are second and third.

Cut Finger Adds To Chance That Reynolds Done

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Allie Reynolds, the big Indian right-hander who reached the major league heights during an eight-year span with the Yankees, may have pitched his last baseball game.

A nasty cut on the right index finger added new fuel to retirement rumors which were already persistent because of his age—he'll be 38 in February—and a chronic back ailment. He cut the finger to the bone in a shower room accident last Thursday in Colorado Springs, Colo., following a deer hunt.

With this development, there are three big question marks surrounding his baseball future:

1. Whether the grafting operation performed after the accident will prevent the crippling of his pitching hand.

2. How his back feels in spring training.

3. Success of his oil business, which will determine whether he wants to pitch another year for the $30,000 or so he can expect to earn.

Knicks on Top

Voights 'Kinda Proud' of His Losing Northwestern Team

Swami Predicts Illinois Win Over Michigan

Picks Purdue Over Iowa; Wisconsin Over Wildcats

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The Ol' Swami's trance was disturbed last week by Minnesota, Indiana, Iowa and Marquette. Now that he's wide awake he hopes to stay that way.

Illinois 20, Michigan 14 — The Illini's Ray Eliot is known as a November coach . . . His team really looks as if it is ready to arouse from its deep sleep . . . Although losing to Purdue, 28-14, Illinois appeared at least 50 per cent improved, even without the fulltime services of J. C. Caroline . . . Caroline will be back for Michigan . . .

The game simply seems to be between a team that is on the upgrade and another that appears to be skidding . . . Michigan, after a brilliant 34-0 victory over Minnesota, was humbled 13-9 by Indiana . . . Now it's Illinois' turn . . .

Purdue 14, Iowa 13 — Strictly a toss-up . . . The combination of passer Len Dawson and banging Bill Murakowski may give the Boilermakers a slight nod . . . The capable Hawkeyes must come right back for another tough assignment after a bruising 13-7 triumph over Wisconsin . . . It's a lot to ask of a team with as little depth as Iowa . . .

Ohio State 21, Pitt 13 — Coach Woody Hayes will have his Buckeyes playing with a football more to their liking (he thought Northwestern used a "slick" ball) . . . Ohio is just too solid.

Wisconsin 20, Northwestern 7 — The injury-stricken Wildcats were in an upset mood and very disappointed in losing 14-7 to Ohio State . . . It should be hard to get that pent-up again so soon . . . Can't see them surprising against a team stinging mad over losing to Ohio State and Iowa in a row . . .

Michigan State 27, Washington State 18 — It's time for the Spartans to break loose, but those visitors from the West Coast will be chesty after tripping Stanford 30-26 . . .

Minnesota 27, Oregon State 6 — Should be a breeze and a well-deserved breather for the Gophers . . . USC thumped Oregon State 34-0 last week . . .

Indiana 21, Miami of Ohio 13 — The improving Hoosiers cannot afford to let down . . . Miami is unbeaten in six starts and has piled up 255 points to 53 for the opposition . . . Miami's tightest squeeze was a 27-26 decision over Marquette earlier . . .

Notre Dame 35, Penn 6 — The Irish will have a chance to wipe the bench clean . . .

Network Loses Cash: May Change TV Football Setup

NEW YORK (AP)—Football's four million dollar television show may cost the sponsoring network nearly two million dollars and the chances are the colleges will have to accept a lot less money for the rights to televise their games next fall.

The "guess" in the television industry is that the American Broadcasting Company will lose about $1,8000,000 on its 4½ million dollar "package" this year. This includes 12 weeks of football television, supporting radio shows that are paying their own way, and a 26-week program of other college sports which will begin in December.

ABC, naturally, isn't giving out any figures. But halfway through the football season, these facts can be fairly well confirmed through conversations—some for the record — with television executives, NCAA committee members and leaders of the opposition to the NCAA control plan.

1. The broadcasting company is losing a peck of money because it couldn't find sponsors to pay the full costs of the NCAA "game of the week."

This likely will have an important bearing on future bids for college football rights.

2. The Big Ten, with some support from the Pacific Coast Conference, is campaigning vigorously for putting the telecasts on a regional, instead of national basis.

3. Almost any day, Ed (Moose) Krause of Notre Dame will begin another strong pitch for unrestricted football television, which Notre Dame always has favored.

4. Members of the NCAA television committee believe strongly that a "hold the line' policy is necessary now. They'd be willing to make some concessions but they feel any change in the basic concept of the NCAA controls would hurt colleges' gate receipts.

5. The price of the NCAA "package" is so high it will have to come down.

6. All these factors could cause a terrific hassle at the NCAA convention next January unless the present committee comes up with a plan that can't be attacked or unless the potential sponsors are convinced by this year's program that college football is a good "buy".

George Shaw Still First in Offense Race

NEW YORK (AP)— George Shaw of Oregon stands between California's Paul Larson and his second straight total offense title.

Larson, who won the crown last year with a whirlwind finish, picked up 62 yards on the Oregon back last week, but figures released by the NCAA Service Bureau today showed Shaw still leads all major college football players with 1,245 yards. Larson is second with 1,117 yards. Each has three games left to play.

Larson leads everyone in passing with 93 completions for 1,125 yards in 142 attempts. His completion average is 65.5 per cent. The record is 60.9 per cent, set by Washington's Don Heinrich in 1950. Last Saturday, Larson threw 38 passes, completed 25 for 280 yards.

Shaw has completed 73 in 150 attempts for 1,068 yards. He has accumulated 177 yards on the ground while Larson's rushing figure is minus eight yards.

Art Luppino, the Arizona sophomore, still is far ahead in rushing with 892 yards, but Penn State's Lenny Moore has moved into second place with 717 to 681 for Colorado's John Bayuk. Army's Tom Bell with 660 has the best average, 12.2 yards for 54 carries.

Alan Ameche, the workhorse of the Wisconsin backfield, is down in 11th place among the runners, but is closing in on a record. He has 3,127 yards rushing in four varsity seasons and needs 40 more to wipe out the college career standard of 3,166 set by San Francisco's Ollie Matson in three years (1949-51).

Club Talks Of Beating Wisconsin

Spirit Outshines Plaguing Fumbles, Injuries, Boners

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—While coaches at other major football schools are disciplining athletes, Zob Voights said today he was "kinda proud" of his Northwestern Wildcats who have lost five straight games.

Voights, a top candidate for hardluck-coach-of-the-year distinction, by rights should be tearing out the few tufts left on his balding head. Fumbles, injuries and boners have plagued him. And Voights hasn't won a big ten game since 1952.

Yet, with deep sincerity, Voights says:

"This is the most remarkable group of kids I've had in my eight years at Northwestern."

Ran Out of Men

His Wildcats lost by one touchdown to Southern California, Michigan, Pittsburgh and Ohio State. Fumbles directly cost the Southern California and Michigan games and last Saturday against Ohio State, the nation's erstwhile No. 1 team, Northwestern just ran out of able-bodied men.

Northwestern won its opener from Iowa State 27-14, then lost five. Minnesota is the only team which pushed around the 'Cats, 26-7.

The Ohio State game cost the Wildcats the services for the rest of the season of their leading ground - gainer, halfback Jim Troglio, and their only seasoned quarterback, John Rearden.

Pulled 2 Boners

The co-captain and center, John Damore, and a good end, Bob Morman, still carry injuries from the 14-7 loss to Pittsburgh two weeks ago and may not play against Wisconsin at Madison Saturday.

It was also in the Ohio State game that a junior halfback pulled two boners which greatly aided the Buckeyes. First he tried to run a punt out of the end zone and nearly got nailed for a safety. Then he intercepted a fourth down pass instead of knocking it down deep in his own territory.

So what's remarkable about this gang?

Explains Voights, "Before the Ohio State game, everybody was thinking ways for us to hold down Ohio's score. But my kids were convinced and convincing me we could beat Ohio State.

"So last Sunday, when our training room was chock full of casualties what was the talk? They knew how they could beat Wisconsin."

Mantle Surprised

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians would beat the New York Giants in a World Series if they played again, New York Yankee star Mickey Mantle told newsmen Tuesday.

The 23-year-old switch-hitting centerfielder, here on a business trip, figured that Cleveland is still the toughest team in the American League.

"Sure I was surprised when they didn't beat the Giants in the series," he said. "But the Giants got the jump and got real good pitching. That was the difference."

SCRATCHING FOR A COLUMN AFTER AN ELECTION NIGHT VIGIL:

Once again, it looks like Illinois will have two teams in the Big Ten basketball race. One at Champaign and the other at Iowa City.

HAWKEYE COACH FRANK (BUCKY) O'CONNOR, starting his fourth full season as head coach at Iowa, has 11 major letter winners back from last year's runner-up team.

But here's the pitch. Of the 11, nine are from Illinois while only one is an Iowa native and the 11th man is from Salt Lake City, Utah.

IT DOESN'T SHOW MUCH BETTER for Iowans going down among the other potentials. The only minor letterwinner is from Grinnell, Ia., but two non-lettering 1953-4 squadmen are from Idaho and Illinois.

That gives Iowa a squad total of 11 Illinoisans, five Iowans, two from Idaho and one from Utah.

ON THE ILLINOIS SIDE of the ledger Combes, with 18 hopefuls, including four football players who aren't out yet, has 16 native boys, one from Kentucky and one from Arkansas.

So, the state of Illinois has two chances to claim the Big Ten basketball title, though one of the teams uses the name of Iowa on their shirtfronts.

LASALLE COLLEGE, which opened its 1954-55 pre-season basketball practice today, has lost only one man from its defending NCAA champions of last year. Only Frank O'Hara, the playmaker, has gone.

But LaSalle still has All-America center Tom Gola, Charley Singley, Frank Blatcher, Franny O'Malley, Bob Maples, Charley Greenberg and several promising candidates from the freshman team.

THE EXPLORERS WON 19 of their last 20 games last season, including the NCAA title game from Bradley and opens this year against Millersville, Dec. 1. Along with a 26-game schedule, LaSalle will compete in the University of Kentucky invitation tournament and the Holiday Festival tourney in New York.

LANKY LEON HART, offensive end for the Detroit Lions' pro football team, saved himself $25 by playing defense last week. And it was the least Coach Buddy Parker could do for the former Notre Dame star.

Hart had steadfastly refused to play defense for the Lions for four years.

A few days before the Lions played the Los Angeles Rams, Hart had been fined $25 for missing dinner at the Lions' pregame camp in Pasadena. But after he went in on defense and swiped the ball from Skeets Quinlan of the Rams in the second period to scamper 22 yards to a touchdown for the Lions' first lead of the game, Parker cancelled the fine.

Having 'Men With Minds' Help to Cincinnati Coach

CINCINNATI (AP)—It's great fun to coach "men with minds," says Sid Gillman, one of the smartest football coaches in the business.

His University of Cincinnati football team is driving for an unbeaten, untied season. Standing in the path to a perfect season are two conference leaders and one league champion.

Arizona State of Tempe, leading the Border Conference; Wichita, ahead of the Missouri Valley field, and Miami of Ohio, winner of the Mid-American title. Miami also is unbeaten and untied.

Cincinnati is one of seven major unbeaten, untied teams in the country and is ranked No. 13 in the current Associated Press poll.

Cincinanti has beaten Detroit, Dayton, Tulsa, Marquette, Hardin-Simmons, city rival Xavier, and College of the Pacific.

Gillman uses two squads, the "Bear" and the "Cat." The Bears, stronger of the units, generally work the first and third quarters. The Cats with nine sophomores, start the second and fourth. If he's pressed, Gillman keeps the Bears on the field.

This two-platoon system wears down the opposition in the first half. Then in the dressing room at halftime, Gillman pinpoints the opposition's weak spots with smart offensive playmaking. The club picks up its yardage and points in the last two periods.

Veteran Alben Barkley Is Returned to U. S. Senate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Kentuckians have picked 76-year-old Alben W. Barkley, the former vice president, to represent them for six more years in the U. S. Senate.

Alben W. Barkley

The Democratic senator-elect already has served 47 years as their public servant, 22 of them in the Senate. He left the Senate in 1949 to become the "Veep."

Voters of this traditionally Democratic commonwealth chose Barkley over Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper, 53.

They also elected five Democrats and one Republican to the U. S. House of Representatives. In two other contests, to fill out the state's new delegation of eight congressmen, a Democrat was leading in one and a Republican in the other.

That lineup is identical to the lineup in the present delegation: Six Democrats and two Republicans.

Barkley continued to stretch his lead. With 78 per cent of returns tabulated, he held an unofficial margin of 74,944. Tabulation of returns from 3,219 of 4,133 precincts gave Barkley 364,493 and Cooper 289,549.

Sen. Gillette, Iowa, Defeated

Republicans Sweep Major Posts, Including Governor

DES MOINES (AP)—A GOP sweep in normally Republican Iowa was assured today, accompanied by the defeat of Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette in a reversal of the general trend nationally.

Rep. Thomas E. Martin, after eight consecutive sessions in the House, will move up to replace Gillette, who has been a member of Congress 18 years. This was the race on which the GOP concentrated in Tuesday's election.

Iowans sent back to Washington the solid GOP delegation of eight to House.

The only real threat to a complete Republican victory came in the race for the governorship, but this too faded. Atty. Gen. Leo A. Hoegh, who sought to succeed his retiring fellow Republican, Gov. William S. Beardsley, started out with a growing advantage. Then he lost the lead temporarily to Democrat Clyde E. Herring. But he recovered and moved further and further ahead.

The GOP candidates for a full Statehouse slate swung into such front-runner positions as to assure a complete victory.

With 2,085 of 2,453 precincts totaled, the standing in the senatorial contest was: Martin, 371,096; Gillette, 340,308. For governor it was: Hoegh, 365,994; Herring, 345,955.

Joliet Adopts City Manager Plan Tuesday

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—The city manager form of government was adopted by Joliet voters in Tuesday's election, 11,390 to 9,251.

The switch from the present commission form of government, which the city has had since 1915, will be made after a city manager is elected next April.

Grand Jury Will Probe 14 Precincts

CHICAGO (AP)— A federal grand jury will examine the election records of 14 Chicago precincts at 10 a.m. (CST) today.

The unprecedented action was announced by U. S. Atty. Robert Tieken. He earlier had assigned three assistants to watch for irregularities in Tuesday's voting.

The subpoenas were served on John S. Rusch, chief clerk of the board and three judges and two clerks in each of the precincts.

Tieken said he doesn't intend to take the records into custody, but "We have received complaints and I want to make sure the records are preserved."

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, ex-office head of the election board, commented: "Never before in the history of the election board has this been done."

Tieken declined to say on what basis the subpoenas were issued. A number of complaints were made to officials by Republican poll watchers during the voting, including challenges of persons voting as illiterates and reports that Democratic precinct captains accompanied voters into voting booths.

Cook County Offices Go To Demos

CHICAGO (AP)— Democratic Sheriff Candidate Lohman, target of Gov. Stratton in the last three weeks of the campaign, along with other Democratic candidates, scored a sweeping victory in county races in Tuesday's election.

Stratton criticized Lohman for remarks the governor said Lohman made in 1952 while chairman of the Illinois Pardon and Parole Board. Stratton made public a recording of a speech he said Lohman gave to parole agents in which he said a "disproportionate number of policemen's wives were former prostitutes." Stratton charged Lohman was "unfit for office."

Lohman said the recording had been "doctored," and charged Stratton with "trying to extend his iron-clad downstate control into Cook County, trying to elect a hand-picked sheriff."

With about 700 of the county's 5,328 precincts unreported, Lohman had 890,943 votes to 613,316 for his Republican opponent, William L. Runzel.

Pacing the Democratic ticket with Lohman was Richard J. Daley, the party's county chairman and county clerk.

Republican William N. Erickson, president of the county board since 1946, was defeated by Daniel Ryan, a veteran member of the board. Nine other Democrats were elected to the board.

LITTLE LIZ

It's amazing how many people get credit for being good-natured when they are just vain about their teeth.

GOP in Control Of State Senate

Lose Five Seats in Some Surprise Upsets

By CHARLES WHALEN

CHICAGO (AP) — Republicans retained control of the Illinois Senate in Tuesday's election but their margin was trimmed as five GOP senators were swept out of office.

Besides sidetracking the five incumbents, Democrats also picked up a seat in Chicago's 13th district. The Republican Senate majority ended up at 32 to 19 as against 38 to 13 two years ago. Control of the upper chamber requires 26 votes.

List Defeated

The Republican Senators who went down to defeat were Arthur E. Larson, William J. Walsh, Peter J. Miller and Edward P. Saltiel, all of Chicago, and Milton (Mink) Mueller of Highland. Biggest surprise was the lose dealt to Saltiel, a prominent legislator and chairman of the Senate's important Judiciary Committee at the 1953 session.

Larson lost to former State Rep. A. L. Cronin. Walsh to Benedict Garmisa and Miller to Robert J. Graham. Saltiel was upset by Robert E. Cherry.

In the 47th District of southwestern Illinois, Democrat James O. Monroe of Collinsville ousted Mueller by approximately a 6,000 vote plurality. Four years ago, Monroe, who is a publisher and former legislator, ran against Mueller and lost by 210 votes.

Daniel Dougherty, a Democrat, defeated Republican Nicholas J. Bohling for the 13th District seat given up by Republican Walker Butler when he became a Chicago judge.

At Rock Island, where a close race was expected, Morris E. Muhleman, a Republican and sheriff of the county, bested San Arndt, former Illinois Parole board member, by approximately 4,000 votes. Muhleman takes over the seat held by Republican Charles E. Carpentier until he was elected Secretary of state.

Incumbents Win

Most of the incumbents running again won handily, including William J. Lynch of Chicago, Democratic minority leader; Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, (R-Downers Grove), Arthur Bidwill of River Forest, a powerful Republican leader, and George Drach (R-Springfield), acting president pro tem of the Senate.

Senators were elected for four years from the 26 odd - numbered districts and from the 6th and 16th where there were vacancies. Twenty-three Republican senators and two Democrats were not up for election.

Meek Concedes Defeat; Given 'Victory' Gift

CHICAGO (AP)—At 1:40 this morning Joseph T. Meek stepped into a crowded room at his campaign headquarters and told newsmen that "It looks like Sen. Douglas may be elected."

Seemingly without emotion, the GOP senatorial candidate went on, blinking as flashbulbs popped: "If this is borne out by the later returns, I wish him all the luck in the world."

At that time Douglas was leading in the race for U.S. senator from Illinois by 239,576 votes. All but 2,500 of the states' 9,775 precincts had reported.

Meek, his wife and three teenage children by his side, was approached by Steve Healey, his campaign publicist. Healey gave him a gift-wrapped box.

Opening it, Meek pulled out a desk clock and, after posing with it briefly for the photographers, read the inscription: "To Senator Joe, from his Chicago staff."

Julia, his 19-year-old daughter, turned away crying.

Meek walked solwly out of the room. Someone stopped him in the hall with a word of encouragement.

"What the heck," said Meek. It rolls along O. K. We fought the good fight."

Then, suddenly looking much older than his 50 years, he said: "Son of a bug, I'm tired. I'm going home and get some sleep."

Best way to keep books clean and the binding long-lasting is to shellac the covers and then apply a coat of self-polishing wax.

Moles won four to take third with 20-12. High bowlers were Yard Birds, Wayne Shaulis, 451; Pin Collectors, Ed Worley, 537; Moles, Marvin Sisler, 502; Pixies, Leigh McGinnis, 509; Tech Operators, Ken Dipple, 459; Wood Choppers, Tom Reitel, 497; Garage, George Lebre, 501; Luminaires, Sandy Sanderson, 504; Megawatts, Larry Hoyle, 556; Gas Dept., George Kanupp, 495; Service Dept., Russ Hicks, 563; Steamers, Mac Stanley, 567; Kilowinkles, Virgil Wasson, 567; Sales Dept., Les Hicks, 459; Alley Cats, Bill Weed, 522; Substation Construction, Harold Smith, 520.

Marvin Sisler had the high series of the night with 592 and high games were Larry Hoyle 205, Russ Hicks 211, 210, Mac Stanley 211, Virgil Wasson 209, Harlan Benson 223, Marvin Sisler 201, 210.

In the eVts league VFW 2 won 2½ points and hold a one-half point lead with 23½-11. Hey Bros. won four and took second with 23-11 when Independents lost three to drop into a tie for third at 24-12 with VFW 1 when the latter won three. High bowlers were VFW 2, Al Clayton, 553; Andrews Service, Bob Houck, 529; Henry Pratt 2, Dick Miller, 456; Gallagners Service, Del Saunders, 508; Jims Tap, Virgil Kidd, 512. Hess Sisters, Mickey Welker, 456; Standard Red Crown, Freriet, 465, Woodlee Rinehart and Russ, 174 each; Kitz Tap, Joe Morrissey, 467.

Roy Ransom had the high series of the night with 584 and high games were Al Clayton 200, John Newcomer 202, Dick Quaco 201, Clarence Morris 200, Les Farster 213, Virgil Kidd 216, Leo Prowant 205, Don Beare 201, 201, Dan Ortgiesen 202, Roy Ransom 202.

In the second block of games at Peoria, in which Jane Fischer represented Dixon, twelve girls took part in the elimination. Only Jane and Carol Widule of Monmouth were from outside the immediate Peoria territory. The girls rolled four games Saturday and eight on Sunday. The high four went into a round robin with scoring by the Peterson point system. The eight girls were Helen McGuire, Helen Martin, national doubles champion. Clarice Miller and Carol Widule. Although Jane was eliminated, she carried a good average through the two weekends, with a 165 . . . . We might remind the Home Bureau girls of Virgil Kidd's invitation for any members of the Home Bureau to visit the lanes on the league's next session, if only to cheer on their respective teams. More teams can still be formed if some of the other members think they'd like to try their hand at keeling. Virg also says he may open every Thursday afternoon for open bowling in addition to Saturday and Sunday . . . The second session of the Recreation Thursday Afternoon men's league will roll tomorrow. Ken is pretty well filled up but there may be one or two openings to fill if you want to try your luck . . . . In the Public Service league last night Harlan Benson turned in 225 in his second game and only totaled nine pins more in his other two, having 116, 116 in his first and last set . . . . Bill Weed spared his games 13 pins with 161, 174, 187 . . . . Fred Sanford's co-workers will be glad to know that, Freddie had the low game for the league last night with 86, 13 pins lower than Mrs. Vignos' 99 when she rolled the second game for her husband, Jerome . . . There are quite a few Holdermans in town and the one rolling on Standard Red Crown last night used no initials (and we don't blame him), so we can't say who it was but the scores were 39, 166, 84 for 229, low for the Vets loop . . . On the same team French had a 19-pin spread on his games of 137, 156, 175

Nobel Prize for Physics To West German Scientists

By GUSTAV SVENSSON

STOCKHOLM (AP)— The Royal Swedish Academy of Science awarded the 1954 Nobel Prize in physics tonight jointly to two West German scientists who helped lay the foundation of modern nuclear physics.

The physics award of 181,646 krona (about $35,000) will be split equally between Prof. Walther Bothe, of the Max Planck Institute at Heidelberg, and Dr. Max Born, 73-year-old pioneer in theoretical physics who fled from the Nazis to Britain in 1933, but who since his retirement from the University of Edinburg has lived at the West German health resort of Bad Pyrmont, in Hannover.

Later tonight the academy was expected to vote the annual chemistry prize to Dr. Linus C. Pauling, controversial California Institute of Technology professor, for his work on protein molecules.

3 of 4

Selection of Dr. Pauling would give to America three of the four 1954 awards from the fund established by the will of the late Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite.

The prize for medicine and physiology was awarded on Oct. 21 to three U. S. scientists—Dr John F. Enders and Dr. Thomas H. Weller of Harvard University and Dr Frederick C. Robbins, now at Cleveland's Western Reserve Medical School—for their discoveries in the fight against polio. A week later the prize for literature was voted to novelist Ernest Hemingway.

The Norwegian Nobel committee has announced the annual peace prize which it awards will not be given this year.

The awards will be presented in Stockholm Dec. 10 by Sweden's King Gustaf VI. Hemingway will be unable ot attend because he is still recovering from injuries suffered in two plane crashes in East Africa last January.

Give Reasons

The Swedish academy said Born was chosen for the physics award "for his fundamental works in quantum mechanics, especially his statistical interpretation of the wave function." This expression in formulae of the previously mysterious "wave function" within the atom has enabled scientists to calculate various states of the atom.

Bothe was cited for his "coincidence method and the discoveries he made with it.' From his findings was developed one of the major precision instruments of nuclear science, enabling scientists to measure time spaces within the atom of less than a billionth of a second.

Busbey Loses House Seat

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrat James C Murray won over Republican Congressman Fred E Busbey in Chicago's third district Tuesday, returns showed today.

Murray, an assistant Cook County state's attorney, held a 10 000 vote margin with only 32 precincts missing Busbey thus joined C W (Run) Bishop of Carterville and Edgar A. Jonas of Chicago as Republican congressmen who were unseated in the election.

'Frisco Okays New Stadium

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A five million dollar bond issue for a stadium designed to attract big league baseball to San Francisco apparently was approved by the city's voters in Tuesday's election

The bond issue, needing a two-third majority, was leading 101 732 to 42 599 in returns from 1,200 of the city's 1,302 precincts.

Douglas Wants Election Probe

Charges Four Illinois Counties With Holdout

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) has asked federal authorities to investigate elections in four northern Illinois counties, contending election officials held out "large numbers of votes . . in an effort to manipulate the election"

He said he would seek indictments if election law violations are discovered

Douglas, who was elected to a second term Tuesday, in a statement to newsmen Tuesday night said he had asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to investigate conduct of precinct officials and county clerks in DuPage, Kane and McHenry Counties His telegram to the FBI said:

"All indications point to the fact that Republicans are holding out large numbers of votes in an effort to manipulate the election."

No FBI Comment

There was no immediate comment from the FBI or election officials of those counties, who Douglas did not name.

Douglas singled out County Clerk Lydia Beardsley in Boone County in accusing her of violating the election law. He said Miss Beardsley instructed election clerks and judges to take the ballots with them and return them to the clerk's office today

In a telegram to U S Atty Robert Tieken Douglas said Miss Beardsley's instruction was a "direct violation" of the U S code. He asked Tieken to advise him "what action you will take under these circumstances"

The senator said he would seek indictments against Miss Beardsley and anyone else "who held back the votes"

60-Year Practice

Miss Beardsley, who received a copy of the telegram sent to Tieken, sent this telegram, collect, to Douglas:

"It has been the practice of Boone County for 60 years, to my knowledge, that the responsibility of all election returns are left to the judges until the opening of the county clerk s office on the following day."

Tieken announced Tuesday night the election records of 14 Chicago precincts had been subpoenaed after he had assigned three assistants to watch for election irregularities.

30-Day Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau predicted Tuesday that during the next 30 days temperatures will average below normal in the eastern half of the United States, except near normal in the New England and much below normal in the Southeast.

In the western half of the nation, temperatures are expected to average above normal except near normal in the Far West

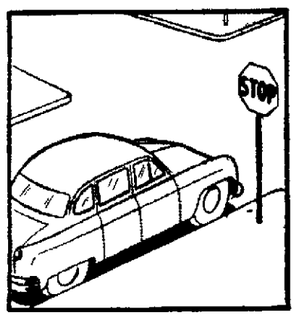
Precipitation amounts are predicted to be greater than normal in the Northeast and near normal in the Southwest In the remainder of the country subnormal amounts are indicated.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Always come to a complete stop at a Stop sign. Failure to make a complete stop, as required by law (Section 86c, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic), is one of the most frequently recurring reasons for lower score and possible failure in the drivers license examination, our inspectors report

Drivers of cars with automatic transmissions show a marked tendency to "creep" past Stop signs, while those driving cars with manual shifts are inclined to slow down, shift into second and go ahead.



Either practice does not give you time enough to look in all directions to make sure no traffic is close enough to be a hazard The safe way, as well as the legally required way, is to come to a full stop, look in all directions, and when you are sure the way is clear, go ahead.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request Write to CHARLES F CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Thumbnail Sketch of Douglas

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul H Douglas, Illinois' Democratic senior senator, carries into his second term a background of economics professor, political gadfly and fighting Marine.

A hefty 6-feet-2 at the age of 62, he shows the stamps of a down East backwoods boyhood and high scholastic attainment

He carries, but doesn't display, a left arm rendered all but useless by Japanese mortar shell fragments in 1945 on Okinawa. And he doesn't display the bruises of many a political thumping received when he emerged in 1939 from an economics professorship to the Chicago City Council arena.

Douglas was born in Salem, Mass., and raised on a farm in northern Maine. He worked his way through Bowdoin College, with some financial help from his brother, and made Phi Beta Kappa and the football team there. Later training at Columbia University and Harvard made him a college teacher.

His teaching was done at the University of Illinois, Reed College in Oregon, the University of Washington, and the University of Chicago.

During his three years on the Chicago City Council, Douglas fought his fellow aldermen vainly on nearly every issue. He quit in 1942 and sought the Democratic nomination for U S senator, but lost out in the primary. It was then that he enlisted in the Marines as a private at the age of 50

He accepted a commission when it became apparent that he couldn't get into combat without one.

Elected senator in 1948 by a plurality of 408 000 with solid backing of the powerful Cook County Democratic machine, Douglas proved no more docile a party horse than he was in the city hall. He backed foreign policy of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. But he kicked up his heels, too

He has waged a continuous one-man war against pork barrell appropriations, and claims he trimmed government spending by one billion dollars during his six-year term. He opposed President Truman bitterly on the President's refusal to honor his selections for Illinois federal judgeships

In 1952, he broke from the Illinois delegation at the Democratic convention to support Sen Estes Kefauver of Tenneessee for the presidential nomination, and refused to switch to Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois when Stevenson became a candidate

Douglas is married to Emily Taft Douglas, a former congresswoman and daughter of sculptor Lorado Taft. They have one child An earlier marriage to economist Dorothy S Wolff which bore four children was dissolved in 1930.

Gov. Kohler Retains Post In Close Wisconsin Vote

Gov. Walter J. Kohler

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin's Republican governor, Walter J. Kohler, won reelection Tuesday to a third term, defeating Democrat William Proxmire in one of the closest gubernatorial contests the state has had in years.

The vote in 3,134 of the state's 3,289 precincts was:

Kohler 564,612.

Proxmire 529,366.

This included 642 of Milwaukee County's 644 precincts, which Proxmire carried by 33 382

Republicans continued their control over the state's 10-member delegation in the House of Representatives, but the Democrats picked up a third seat when 42-year-old Milwaukee attorney, Henry Reuss defeated Rep Charles J. Kersten in the 5th District. The vote with one precinct missing was 75 925 to 69,901

Wisconsin GOP House members reelected were Reps. Smith, 1st District Davis, 2nd, Withrow, 3rd; Van Pelt, 6th; Laird, 7th; Byrnes, 8th, and O Konski, 10th. Democrats Zablocki, 4th, and Johnson, 9th, were reelected

Republicans made a clean sweep of all state offices, to retain the administrative control they have held for 18 years.

Jackson County Goes Democratic

MURPHYSBORO, Ill (AP)—Jackson County, which hadn t elected a Democratic county officer since 1938 chose a Democratic sheriff and treasurer Tuesday.

Howard Chetham was named sheriff over Republican candidate D L McGregor, and Carl Todd defeated Roy Carter incumbent Republican sheriff, in the race for County treasurer.
